

Type I Noise Exception Permit Application

Applicant

Name	Company Name
Email	Phone number
Mailing address	City	State	ZIP Code

Noise Exception Request per Bloomington City Code 10.31

- A. Dates for exception requested _____
- B. Location of particular noise source and times of operation _____

- C. Equipment involved _____

- D. Necessity for request of exception _____

- E. Steps taken to minimize noise level from source _____

- F. Names and contact information of responsible persons _____

- G. Names and contact information for the property owner of the location _____

Noise activity

- Construction Activities [§10.29.07(c)] Outdoor Power Implements [§10.29.07(b)]
- Amplified Sound/Source Noise [§10.29.02] Other _____

Bloomington City Code Section 10.31(b)

Noise Exception Permit. It is recognized that under certain circumstances it would be a hardship for a noise source to comply with the provisions of §§ 10.29.02 or 10.29.07 of this chapter. The purpose of the exception permit application process is to ensure that sufficient information is provided by the applicant and that appropriate conditions are attached to enhance compatibility with surrounding uses.

The City Code maybe found at www.bloomingtonmn.gov/noise

(Office Use Only)

Signature _____ Date ____/____/____

CONFIRMED LOCATION HISTORY APPROVED DENIED

§10.31 (b)(2)(A) Appeal of Community Development Director decision: The applicant for a Type I Noise Exception Permit may appeal the decision of the Community Development Director by submitting an appeal request with supporting materials within three business days of the decision. The appellants will be given the opportunity to present their case in front of City Council.